his amendment. The House voted, and the result was 86 noes to 78 yeas-so the the result was 85 noes to 78 yeas—so the question was decided in the negative. There not being the required two-thirds, Mr. Poland then modified his amendment, changing the proposed penalty from one thousand to one hundred dollars, and again moved a suspension of the rules, and the pussage of the bill. The vote stood 34 noes to 73 yeas. The question was therefore decided in the negative. The bill now lies on the Speaker's table.
